Happy New Year

As the New Year rolls around, I have a few hopes and thoughts to share. First, I hope that we as a world get closer, if not completely wipe out this Coronavirus. Be it the original, COVID 19, the Delta, or now the new Omicron variant; I hope we can make it a thing of the past. This horrible virus has not only killed hundreds of thousands of people, but it has also made people angry and fearful. From people who believe in the vaccine to people who don't, people who believe that wearing masks helps stop the spread, to the people who don't, it has spread anger and unrest along with its deadly effects.

Then we have social media that spread the message to damage your school, or even worse, to do harm to your fellow classmates. Again, this is spreading hate and fear. The millions of days of schools that were lost due to a recent posting are astonishing. And this also caused fear and unrest. Parents were fearful of sending their children to school, which should be a place of learning and peace. I believe the people who started these postings as terrorists. They are taking away our children's right to an education one day at a time.

Yet, in all this confusion, I know the other side. Working at Johnsburg, I can see firsthand the kind and understanding side of a community that is trying to figure out all this unrest. We have COVID protocols in place that are handed down to us from the County, State, and Nation, and most of the time, everyone follows them while in school. Students are going to class; learning is taking place, and children are growing academically. We also have an excellent counseling staff working with students who are having a difficult time and helping them through it. Families are continuously working with the school through this pandemic and understand that we are doing our best.

Unfortunately, social media will continue to be used to pass on fear and unrest, but at the same time, I have seen it spread love and kindness. And working at Johnsburg has taught me that people love our community. They are concerned for our children, bringing these things to our attention. We had several parents send us the posting to make sure we were aware. The idea of "if you see something, tell someone" is one way in which we win against the hatred that is being spread. Not only thinking of ourselves but also wanting to keep our community and others safe is how we rise above this hatred.

So once again, as I look back at 2021 and look forward to 2022, I can say that I am grateful to work in a community with such love and understanding for each other. I know it is not perfect, but what is? I hope we continue to have patience and show kindness to one another. I pray for everyone to have a safe and healthy 2022.

JANUARY QUESTIONS OF THE MONTH!

This month's Question of the Month was asked to our third grade classes,

“What is the Most Incredible Snow Day Ever?”

Mrs. Turcotte's Class:

“The most incredible snow day ever was when I made a snowman. I also made snowballs and a big snow fort outside. When I came inside I made hot chocolate and watched a movie with my kitten. It was a good snow day.

Mason Cleveland

The most incredible snow day ever was when there was 6 feet of snow and the icicles were at least 9 feet. There was so much snow on the roof. I went outside and built a big snowman. When I went inside there was hot cocoa on the table and I drank it. It turns out that it was mine! Best snow day ever!

Jeremy Church

The most incredible snow day was when I built a snowman bigger than me! Then I helped my mom build a snow fort. I got a little minion in the advent calendar. Next, I played with my little brother. Then I went sledding outside. That's what I did on the best snow day.

Griffin Lewis

The most incredible snow day is if I made the biggest snowball ever. Then Rudolf came and licked it up. Santa would fly over my house and he would pick up Rudolf. Then he would let me in his sleigh and we would throw snowballs at the clouds. They would rain back down on us. That would be the best snow day ever!

Scarlett Leigh

The most incredible snow day ever was when I went to Gore and I went skiing with my dad. And then I went to a big hill with my big sled. I went down the big hill and I went really fast. I went sledding again and again. When I went home I got warm. I got to have hot chocolate by the fireplace. That was the most incredible snow day ever!

Audrie Knickerbocker

The most incredible snow day was when the snow was so high. It was about 4 feet tall! I decided to jump into the new snow. After I got up, I was so cold! So I went back inside. I drank hot cocoa in the bathtub. It was the best day ever because I didn't have to go anywhere. But I really missed school, my friends, and my teacher Mrs. Turcotte. At least I'm going to school tomorrow. That was the most incredible snow day ever!

McKenna Mahaffey

The most incredible snow day ever was when I woke up and the boys were playing outside. I put on my snow gear and joined them. We had a snowball fight. Then we went sledding and I went so high off a jump. After, we went inside and watched a movie. We got to have hot chocolate! That was the most incredible snow day ever.

Hannah Sauer-Jones

The most incredible snow day ever was when I got to have a playdate with my friend Ryan. I remember when Ryan got to my house that he wanted to play Roblox. But I wanted to go play in all of the snow. We decided we would play Roblox for 10 minutes, then we would go play outside in the snow for 10 minutes. We went on the sleds together or by ourselves. We went higher and higher on the hill until we couldn't go any higher. All of a sudden, we realized that we had been out there for 2 hours. But a lot of snow was falling so we had to go inside. When we got inside, I made hot cocoa for both of us. We drank cocoa and played Roblox until Ryan had to go home. We made an obstacle course out of pillows. Sadly, Ryan had to go home. That was the most incredible snow day ever!

Aurora Hitchcock

The most incredible snow day ever was in 2020. I went to Aurora's house for 2 hours! First we played Roblox. Next we played outside in the snow. Then it looked like there was a snow storm so we went inside. Aurora made hot cocoa. It was really good! When I finished my hot cocoa, we played some more Roblox. Lastly, we built an obstacle course. That was the best snow day ever.

Ryan Bacon

The most incredible snow day ever was when I made an elephant toothpaste explosion. Elephant toothpaste is when you add hydrogen peroxide with dish soap and food dye mix. Then get a bottle of warm water and yeast mix. Next go outside and pour the yeast into the other stuff. I also made a baking soda and vinegar rocket for the first time. It went over 1 foot. The next time it went 30 feet. My dad ran over the elephant toothpaste. It was funny. Then I jumped on my trampoline. It was fun. It was the best snow day ever!

Hunter Verfurth

Most incredible snow day was when we went sledding. Then we built a snowman with the new snow. After we had cookies and hot chocolate. That was the best snow day.

Ari Galle

The most incredible snow day was when I drove my four wheeler in the backyard. I also made a big snowman and then I smashed it! I got to go down a big hill on my snowboard with Nate, Nick and my dad. That was the most incredible snow day.

Lewka Lorensen

Mrs. Watson's Class:

The best snow day ever was when I got to go sledding down Penguin hill in my backyard. I also got to go to my aunt's house and hang out with her. We got to watch a movie.

Levi Owens

The best snow day ever is when we have a snow storm.

I like to go sledding at the Ski Bowl Park.

I like to help my brother make snow castles.

My friends came over for a play day in the snow.

Autumn Baker

The best snow day ever was when I went skiing with my uncles at the Ski Bowl. Poppy was there and watched me try to go down the hill.

Sara Donohue

My best snow day is to go sledding and play with my brother. Then I will build a snowman and go inside and drink hot cocoa.

Kloey Tuma

The best snow day ever is when me and my sister go sledding together, drink hot chocolate and have snowball fights as a family.

Hayley Smith

The best snow day ever is every snow day because I can go sledding on my grandma's very tall hill. It's super fun and I made a jump. My brother went five feet in the air. Then I went on a saucer sled. I went six feet in the air. I also got to play with my cousins Reagan and Cohen. I play snowball fights with my friends and family.

Miles Moos

The best snow day I have had is when I played some video games and then I went and had lunch and then I went to the park and had a snowball fight with my friends. Then we played some video games, then we got bored, went back outside and we made a snow castle. Then they built a city and it was huge and then I became the king and then we had to check the city for any robbers robbing the bank and then my dad wanted to join and we said yes and he was the cook of the castle. He loved it. Then the city was attacked by enemies and we won the battle, but war was coming. We weren't ready. So we had to get ready. A couple days later we battled again and we were ready. The battle ended and we won the snowball battle.

Lukka Allen

The best snow day I ever had was on 12/13/2020, my birthday. Here it goes, I get up at 6:30 A.M. I walk downstairs and see everyone sitting down on the couch. "Hey, uhh what are you doing on the couch, it's a school day." I said, "Oh, wait I didn't tell you my name. My name's Colton. Let's get back to the story. You didn't hear it was a snow day." My sister said. "What? I was thinking, 'No no no no NO!'" I couldn't believe it, the day I was gonna perform for the whole class so they could see I'm not just silly, I'm talented "Ugh." I said. Anyways, I go upstairs and find a PRESENT! Omg! They got me a present since school is canceled. I rush downstairs and thank my family but then I hear a "Rumble"? "Hey, uhh mom, dad, what's that?" I said, "Go look and see," my parents said. I go upstairs and open the present. Guess what's in there? I'll give you 5 seconds 5, 4,3,2,1 a PUPPY! My mom and dad got me a puppy! I rush downstairs and thank them so much.

The best snow day ever.

Colton Lawrence

The best snow day ever was a Christmas morning and I was opening presents. I went outside and shoveled.

Then I made a jump to sled on. I made a snow angel. Then I went back in and had hot cocoa.
Emery

The best snow day ever was when school was out and the snow was deep. So we built a snow tunnel around my house then we built a way out.

Jaxson Harpp

The best snow day ever was when my dad got off work. It was a snow day. When I came down stairs, my dad was standing in the kitchen. I was so surprised. So after we ate breakfast we went outside and I, my dad and my siblings played outside. We had fun and that was one of my favorite snow days.

Juliet Rose Beaudrot

This day is the best snow day ever. You wanna know why? Because, I can play in the snow all day. Now do you wanna know about someone else's best snow day ever? Well..... They jump on top of a snowbank and catch snowflakes on their tongue. Maybe I can hang out with my friends, in the snow.

Quinn Mahaffey

A snow day is fun on a school day because you do not have to go to school and you can play all day long. I would play in the snow.

JOHNSBURG

Happy New Year and welcome back!

It's the most wonderful time of the year! Our girls and boys modified and varsity basketball teams have been working hard and are ready to jump into a busy game schedule. We appreciate everyone's cooperation with following the mask and social distancing protocol while attending indoor sporting events at all schools. These protocols are important for our basketball seasons to continue. Our Nordic teams have also begun their racing season. We will continue to wish for snow!

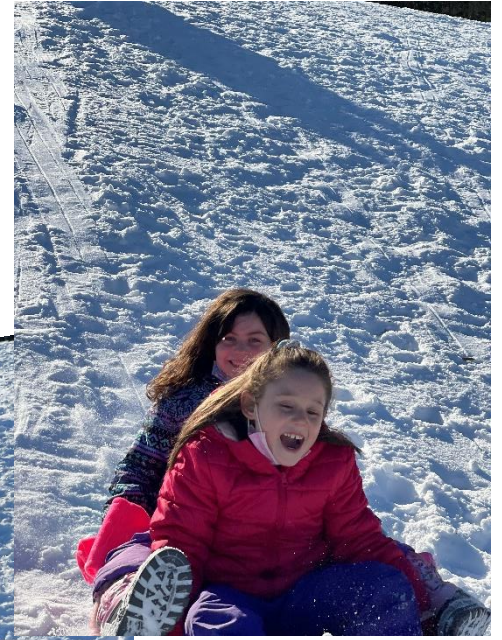

Our PE classes have finished up their volleyball unit. On the last day of school before break, the junior and senior classes had the chance to show off their skills by participating in a volleyball tournament. The winning team then played against the JCS staff "Dream Team." It was a hard-fought battle, but the teachers ended up losing by 1 point. The winning student team was Yanden Cleveland, Charlize Bernard, Gabe Powers, Noah Moffit, and Cassie Dunbar. If you see them, please congratulate them on a hard-fought win. The staff team did gain a victory when playing the full senior class. It was a fun activity for all and we look forward to providing more fun tournaments in the future.

Elementary basketball will be starting in January. Please reach out to Coach Gonyo or Coach Pierson if you are interested in having your 5th or 6th-grade student participate. Keep an eye out for permission slips and schedules the first couple of weeks back in January. Mask protocols will be implemented for elementary sports as well.

Please remember to have your child(ren) bring snow clothes in for PE. Weather permitting we will be outside as often as possible.

Thank you,
Coach Pierson and Coach Gonyo

Happy New Year, Johnsburg Families,

What busy weeks we've had here at Johnsburg. We saw a spike in COVID-19 cases in the North Country, unlike what we've seen since the pandemic began. I want to thank so many parents/guardians for being extra cautious, having their kids stay home when they don't feel good, and having them tested. This helps decrease the chance of spreading it to others should they be positive for COVID-19. We have a growing number of students who have completed or at least started getting their COVID-19 vaccines. This, too, will help keep COVID out of our school. We want to continue to ask for your support in discussing and reminding your child(ren) of the importance of proper mask-wearing at all times when in school, social distancing, and hand washing. We have strong mitigation measures in place that have shown us they work many times.

In other news, I want to remind everyone to check out the school nurse section of our district website, and I update it with helpful information often.

I will finish routine hearing, vision, and scoliosis screenings after the New Year.

If you have received a letter about your child needing a physical, please remember to submit their "Health Appraisal" (physical form) as soon as possible.

Updated physicals are required by NYS for all new students and students in grades 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, and 11.

January is

National Blood Donor Awareness Month

According to the Wellness Council of America, winter is the most challenging time to collect enough blood to meet patient needs. This is likely attributed to the holidays being a busy time of year. According to their website, the American Red Cross is experiencing the worst blood shortage in over a decade. Please consider donating blood; you can search local Blood Drives by going to American Red Cross: <https://www.redcrossblood.org/give.html/find-drive>

As always, please never hesitate to reach out to me with any questions or concerns.

I hope you all enjoyed your holidays. Stay safe and healthy!

Be well,
