Feasibility Study

The Feasibility Committee met on January 31st. at Johnsburg Central School. This meeting's main focus was the future use of the two existing school buildings as well as transportation. While many ideas were discussed, the committee agreed on several options to explore in more detail. For example, one proposed option was using only one school building for all students. The group ultimately did not support this idea. Most members thought the best option was to use Johnsburg as a Pre-K through 4th grade and 9th through 12th grade building. All 5th through 8th grade students would be in the Minerva building. A sub-committee was created to explore this option in more detail. This group will report to the entire committee at the next meeting, scheduled for March 6th at Minerva at 6:30 pm.

During a review of both districts' transportation programs, it quickly became apparent that keeping the bus runs very similar to what they are now, with shuttles between the two schools after all students have been picked up, is the best option. The two districts are less than 10 minutes apart, making it a very short trip between the two buildings.

The group also discussed the possibility of operating a private daycare program in the Minerva School building. This daycare would be open to both communities and help with childcare needs.

The anticipated last meeting for the feasibility study committee will be held at Johnsburg on Wednesday, March 13th, at 6:30 pm. After these next two meetings, CASDA will write up their report and have it reviewed by the State to ensure all aspects of a merger have been included. CASDA will present its findings to both school boards of education. Each school's board must decide whether to present it to both communities for the "Straw" vote. Before this vote, I will hold meetings to inform the Johnsburg community about the study and what the Feasibility committee has recommended. The Straw vote may likely happen sometime in June or July.

100th Day

We just celebrated our 100th day of school last week. That tells me that spring is around the corner, and we can get outside and play baseball, softball, and tennis soon. It is also extremely important for students to buckle down and ensure their academics are sound for the end of the school year. Make sure "Spring Fever" doesn't affect your grades, and remember, summer is just around the corner.
